

Ana-Dil

Ana-Dil Türkçe is an e-learning platform that enables learners to learn Turkish at their own pace, having fun with thematically organized modules covering real-life issues. The aim of this program, which is designed with a simple and user-friendly interface that can be used by anyone, is to teach you Turkish and help you have a level of Turkish language which you can use it as a way of communication in your business, education and daily life. The system also supports English, Arabic and Russian languages.

Content

This program includes A1, A2, B1, B2, C1, and C2 levels. Turkish language skills will be acquired in each level with 8 units.

I A1

At A1 level, where Turkish is taught at the beginning level, you will acquire language skills that you can use in basic daily activities such as "introducing yourself, greeting, talking about jobs, ordering food, telling numbers, shopping, talking about weather and seasons, getting medical treatment and celebrations."

I A2

At this level, basic language skills needed for daily communication such as "talking about family members and relatives, expressing the concepts related to sports, talking about leisure activities, communicating with friends and others in your social environment, and sorting months according to the seasons" will be acquired.

I B1

At B1 level, language skills that you can use in formal and informal settings such as "making job applications, sharing ideas about interests such as music, painting and art, talking about your experiences and plans for the future, sharing travel experiences, understanding idioms and proverbs, and following current news" will be acquired.

I B2

At B2 level, necessary language skills to be used in activities in daily life as well as in academic and professional environments such as "making official correspondence and professional interviews, communicating with native speakers on social media, participating in discussions about their interests and expertise, following current developments and news, dealing with problems in social, professional, and educational life, and communicating by taking into account the stress, intonation, correct pronunciation, and the use of body language" will be acquired.

I C1

Language skills which have great importance in social, academic and professional life such as "understanding complex issues, expressing opinions clearly and comprehensibly in discussions, following publications on concrete and abstract issues, interpreting articles and long technical information in any field of specialization" will be acquired at this level.

I C2

At C2 level, which is for the expert users of the language, advanced language skills necessary for performing complex tasks in business and education such as "understanding what is heard or read easily, summarizing the information and arguments from different oral and written sources and presenting them in a coherent and concise manner, expressing himself/herself very fluently and precisely even in complex situations" will be acquired.

Learning-Teaching Process

At each unit, an activity module is presented primarily as to which learning objectives are to be taught. These modules, which aim to prepare and motivate you about the topic of the unit include an animated video that presents all the objectives, skills and vocabulary to be learned in each unit. After the video, the subject matter is presented in a fun and interactive manner, which also allows you to test your learning occasionally.

The program enables you study at your own pace and control and it does not require any high level of computer skill. You can do revisions and practice as much as you want. To guide you, some symbols are used in the exercises. The explanations of those symbols are given below.

Having completed the activity modules, you may watch the video lessons where target language points are presented so that you can reinforce what you have learned, listen to short and fun videos that are at your reach anytime and anywhere you wish in order to improve your listening and reading comprehension skills, and have great time learning and practising with our gaming applications that you can download on your mobile devices.

We wish you a fun learning process.

Assessment

Since Ana-dil Turkish program is oriented to teaching of Turkish on a platform where everyone can access easily and for free, it doesn't have a formal assessment study for now. You can monitor your own learning through self-evaluation which is presented to you in the activities of the units.
